The Prez Sez by Glenn Miller

It's been nice to finally get some rain the last couple of months after a very dry late fall and early winter. Now we need to wait till the river levels come down to fishable levels. Sometimes in Oregon it's feast or famine but I'm sure glad we're finally starting to catch up on our rainfall and snow pack totals. It'll help the fishery, especially some of the eastern Oregon waters. Over there, two or three years of very dry weather can completely shut down some fisheries.

At our last meeting, Kathy McCartney and Katherine Paiva were selling raffle tickets for a beautiful, large fly box chock full of flies. The proceeds from this raffle will go to a great cause; the Casting for Recovery program. This program combines counseling, education, medical information, and fly fishing to help women to move forward in their recovery from breast cancer. Many fly tyers in our club will be donating flies to this box. Kathy and Katherine will be selling tickets at upcoming meetings so pitch in to a good cause and maybe you'll get lucky and win this beautiful box and enough flies to last you many years on the water.

Our club is also doing another rod raffle this year to support the operational budget of the CFF. Randy Beard, under the tutelage of Skip Hosfield, is in the process of building a 5 weight, 7 ½ foot bamboo rod that will come with an extra tip. I saw Skip at the Expo and he told me that Randy is doing a "great job". Randy is spending 2-3 sessions a week learning from Skip as there is a tremendous amount of work that goes into building one of these rods. I don't own a bamboo rod so I figure this is a good way to support the club and possibly get lucky and win the rod. Tickets will start going on sale at the March general meeting for $5 per ticket.

It's that time of year when our club gets very involved with various fishing events. On March 1st and 2nd, several members of our club helped with fly tying, fly casting demonstrations, and a Casting for Recovery fund raising BBQ event at Cabela's Spring Outdoor Days weekend. Those who participated were Vic Hadley, Steve Overall, Fred Enright, Doug Dewald, Michelle Overall, Maryam Peigahi, Fred Acosta, Randy Beard, Joe Hamilton, Joe Moody and myself. A big thank you for your help!

And then on March 7-9, a large group (I believe about 30) from the club assisted Marv Clemons at the NW Fly Tyer and Fly Fishing Expo in Albany. Marv has a great report in the newsletter. And coming up on March 22, a number of us will be helping out at the Kids Adventure Fishing Day event sponsored by Travel Lane County.

With the weather warming, now is the time to get out on the water. Saturday, about 20 from the club showed up at Horton Pond for a day of fishing in great weather. Quite a number of fish were caught as well. It was interesting (and educational) to see everyone's fishing craft; from float tube to kayak to pontoon boat and even a couple of drift boats. The dutch oven deserts served by Glen Neal and Bill Burleigh were scrumptious.

Reminder – if you have not renewed your membership, please do so at the March meeting, or you can send a check to the CFF address listed on the last page of the newsletter.

See you soon,

Glenn

Umpqua Outing

Mark your calendar for our second annual Umpqua River Outing. We will be staying at the Umpqua RV Park 541/457-2665 or UmpquaRV@gmail.com, (they also have a Facebook page). Camping spots fill up so call for reservations now.

This is a very nice RV park (with tent camping) located on the river. The trip is a joint outing with the South Umpqua Fly Fishers out of Reedsport. Last year we enjoyed their company and advice on fishing this stretch of the river. Glen Neal is the trip host and will be there from July 15th—20th.

Call Glen if you have any questions.

Horton Pond

Twenty two club members showed up to fish Horton Pond; Fred Acosta, Dave Prindle, Susan Primak, Bill Burleigh, Glen Neal, Glenn Miller, Dennis Munroe, Curtis Erickson, Pete Szekely, Roz Kauffman, Steve & Michelle Overall, Tim & Sheila Hood, Trese Slocum, Maryam Peigahi, Randy Beard, Joe Moody, Rick Diggs, Mike Marlatt, BJ Burnett, Vic Hadley, Al Keaton and Bob Wolf. Please excuse me if I forgot anyone.

At half time we had caught an impressive 42 trout. Most of us who could tear away from the fishing took a break for three outstanding Dutch oven treats, which were cooked on-site by the practiced hand of Bill Burleigh. Thanks Bill! Some people asked for the lemon crisp recipe, so here it is.

Glen Neal, Trip Host

Recipe/Pictures Horton Pond

lemon Apple Crisp

6 c. sliced apples
2 tbsp lemon juice
1/2 c sugar
1/2 c raisins

Cover the inside of the Dutch with aluminum foil, spread mixture evenly over the bottom of the Dutch oven. Top with the following mixture.

1 c. brown sugar
1 c oats
3/4 c. flour
1/2 c. chopped walnuts
2 tbsp grated lemon peel
2 tsp cinnamon
1 tsp nutmeg

Then add 1/2 c butter in small pieces over the top. Bake over top and bottom heat for 20-25 minutes. Remove bottom heat, continue to cook until apples are tender. Serve with heavy cream or ice cream.

JOE WARREN*presentsBAJA ON THE CHEAP

March 26, 2014

Joe Warren, from Carson, WA returns to the Cascade Family Flyfishers to share his latest program.

If you've ever had a hankering to experience Baja's cornucopia of saltwater fishing, yet had concerns preventing this possibility, Joe Warren has discovered answers to key questions that may assist in getting you to the sun, the salt, the gorgeous fish available in Baja California. Come see why Joe Warren grins ear to ear when the subject of fly fishing Baja surfaces!

Joe Warren will be doing demonstration fly tying at 6:15 pm. This guy has some amazing patterns!

Joe Warren's March 26th visit will mark the fourth time we have hosted Joe. Sequentially, Joe's presentations have been; April 2002 "Columbia River Gorge—Panfish to Chinook," March 2003 "Omak Lake —Trout the size of steelhead," January, 2013 "Trophy Rainbows—Upper Columbia River."

Joe Warren is a gifted photojournalist, member of the Northwest Outdoor Writers Association and has numerous articles plus several books to his credit. Perhaps Joe's most notable book is "Tying Glass Bead Flies."

Come on down to the Steelhead Brewery & Café, corner of East 5th and Pearl for our regular pre-meeting no-host dinner. Arrive by 5pm and have an hour plus to socialize.

Michael T Williams, CFF Program Chair

CFF MEMBERS TAKE HOME FFF AWARDS.

At the NW Fly Tyer and Fly Fishing Expo, two of our CFF members were presented key Oregon Federation of Fly Fishers (FFF) awards. Marv Clemons was presented with the Federator of the Year Award. This award is given annually to an Oregon Council FFF member who has contributed substantially and significantly to the Council's mission thru efforts that include involvement with education, conservation, leadership activities, NW Expo Show, membership recruitment, and youth activities. Marv has been very active in all of these areas with our CFF club and has been a key contributor to the Oregon FFF for many years. He is very deserving of this award!

Also, Vic Hadley was presented with the Oregon FFF Fly Tyer of the Year award. Vic has had a distinguished tying career both nationally and locally. He's tied at many fly tying shows across the country and is well known for his classic steelhead and spey flies. Vic has contributed many fly boxes and fly plates to the CFF annual auction and gives away flies at his many fly tying events. In addition, he's been a solid member of the CFF for many years and has served on the board for the last several years. Vic is very deserving of this award!

Having two members of the CFF receive the Oregon FFF awards in the same year is truly remarkable. Big congratulations go to Marv and Vic!!

FFF Expo—Successful Event for the Cascade Family Fly Fishers. March 6, 7, 8 & 9, Linn County Fairgrounds

Thursday March 6th, Bill Burleigh and I met with Daniel Beraldo, Manager at Cabelas in Springfield. Calbelas was a sponsor of the EXPO this year and had contributed $250.00 to be used to purchase raffle items for the event. Bill and I had fun shopping which is always the case when using some one else's money. Dan met us at the door and told us to do the shopping as he knew Bill and I had worked the raffles in the past and had a good feel for what would go well and encourage attendees to purchase raffle tickets. When we estimated that we had spent the grant amount we took it to the payment counter where Dan met us again. By the time all the items were tallied, we had purchased $373.00 worth of items. Dan looked at us and said that our estimate was pretty close and to put all the items in the bag. I of course thanked him. I then told Dan and Bill to take care and thanked Dan again and told him I was on my way to the event in Albany and invited him to attend as he would be surprised at the number of people with interest in fly fishing and tying flies. He smiled.

On the way to Albany all I could think about was filling and wrapping the beautiful wicker baskets that had been donated as containers for the bucket raffle items. I was completely surprised when I walked in and saw the baskets wrapped beautifully and sitting on the raffle tables. I couldn't believe it. After asking around, I was introduced to four women who were the wives of some of the tiers at the show who had taken on the awesome task to wrap the baskets: Patty Schillinsky of Ukiah, CA.; Shirley Scott, Canby, OR.; Elsie Marchando, Glide, OR. and Nancy Fruitman of Trail, OR. These ladies were dynamite, fun, sharp, and a real asset to the event. Not only did they wrap the baskets but went into Albany and got donations to add to the items already donated to fill the baskets. Patty Schillinsky stayed on and helped all three days. Thank you all.

I must be getting soft as I actually got choked up as I watched our members slide into position, set up the raffle tables, prepare the winner number boards, don the red aprons and hit the floor to sell raffle tickets and have fun in the process. I had registered 32 of our members to work the event and by the end on Sunday 29 of the original group had shown up for their designated shifts. The open shifts were filled by other members who were just attending the show.

Members participating included: Jen and Fred Acosta, Mike Marlatt, BJ Burnett, Steve and Michelle Overall, Alan Corbin, Dennis Munroe, Glenn Miller, Chuck and Carol Tannenbaum, Glen Neal, Ken and Missy Lathon, Craig Prindel, Tim Hood, Steve Brehm, Joe Moody, Bill Burleigh, Skip and Donna Hosfield, Maryam Peigahi, Bill Krpalek, Susan Primak, Randy Beard, Trese Slocum, Joe Hamilton, Doug Dewald, George Randle, Jerry Blade, Fred Chancey, Rick Diggs, and yours truly. Other members who participated in the event as tiers and vendors included: Tony Overstake and business partner, Michael T. Williams, Vic Hadley, Steve Overall, and Mike Marlatt. Thank you all.

Part of the Cascade Family Fly Fishers responsibilities at the event included the set up of the items for the silent auction at the Tier's Reception on Friday evening, monitoring the tables during the dinner and program and securing the items not collected and moving them back into the main hall at its conclusion. I had excellent help from Glen Neal while the other CFF volunteers closed the general raffle tables in the main hall. Our Saturday evening assignment was to set up for the silent auction at the banquet, and move the oral auction items from the main hall into the Santiam Room for the Banquet and Oral Auction which was the main fund raising event. Once again I had great help from Glen Neal, Jerry Blade and Randy Beard as well as about 10 tiers and vendors who were waiting for the dinner bell to ring. All items were moved without mishap. I did not hear how much was made through the oral auction but according to Thelma's calculations her rough total was approximately $8,600.00 not counting the funds made by the silent auction. A big "Thanks!" to the McKenzie Fly Fishers also who received the funds and kept the totals. The McKenzie group was led by Greg Pitts.

A big change for EXPO 2014 was the addition of a third day. None of us really knew what to expect when we arrived on Sunday for "Family and Kids Fun Day". I arrived early and moved tables over to the location designated for our Kids raffle, hauled over the raffle items set aside for the kids and began setting out the buckets and items, and setting up the winning number boards and information banners. Once again I was pleasantly surprised when I noticed items on the tables and signs placed that I hadn't yet put out. When I turned around, nearly all of the club members who had volunteered to help with the Kids Raffle on Sunday were already there and getting the job done and once again having fun doing it.

Sunday workers included: Susan Primak, Maryam Peigahi, Dennis Munroe, Randy Beard, Trese Slocum, Jerry Blade, Joe Hamilton, Fred and Jen Acosta and my self.

The Family and Kids Fun Day went really smoothly as there were four circuits: Fly Tying, Knot Tying, Fly Casting, and Build a Trout of Clay. Once a person had completed all four of the circuits he or she would come to the raffle ticket table and be given 10 raffle tickets which would be deposited in the buckets of choice. Each hour the buckets would be emptied and winning numbers drawn and posted. Kids with parents or with another responsible adult would find whether they and won and get their prizes. Thanks to the sponsors of the event especially Frank Amato Publishing, Cabelas and Wasatch Tying Tools and the ORCFFF raffle chair Jim Crislip, we had far more items than we could give out through the original process design. By the end of the day we were taking the tickets from participants and letting them take one item from each of the four tables. Kids who were there with their parents but didn't finish all the circuits were given the same prize opportunity. All left the tables happy with at least four prizes. I think the parents were even happier. Just as in the general bucket raffle on Friday and Saturday, the Family and Kids Raffle had two high end items that were kept until the final drawing on Sunday. One was a set of Wasatch Tying Tools thanks to Bob Blount the owner of Wasatch and coordinator of facilities for the event, and the other a TFO fly rod, reel, and line. The winner of the tying tools was a four year old little girl and I'm sure her father was much more impressed with her winnings than she. The boy who won the rod, reel, and line was six and he was elated and was already an avid fisher. A rough count of the kids who participated was 68 who did the circuits with another 30 who came by with their parent but didn't do the circuits. All had a great time including those of us running the circuits and the raffle. Great job everyone. One little perk that we did for those working the raffle on Sunday was to raffle off one of the beautiful baskets that was not claimed from the Saturday regular raffle. Each worker put his or her name on a ticket and placed it in one of the buckets. I could not participate so I shook the bucket and Randy Beard's grandson Tim picked the winner. Guess who? Trese Slocum, Congrats. She was really excited with the win.

From my perspective this EXPO was a rousing success. I am proud to say I am part of the Cascade Family Fly Fishers and proud of every one from our club who participated. I hope you too feel it was well worth the effort and that you learned much, picked up a few items with the good deals available, and met many new folks with whom you can continue to communicate and possibly even go fishing with. Being the representative to the Oregon Council for our Club and a member of the EXPO Planning Committee, I realize the value and effort it takes to put on an event like the EXPO. Our contribution to that effort is much appreciated as part of the awesome team that it takes to pull off this event. Thanks to all the volunteers, and our Council President and EXPO Chair Sherry Steele and her great leadership team. I hope to work with you all again in 2015.
Respectfully,

Marv Clemons, CFF past President and Auction Chair

Build a Bamboo Rod with Skip Hosfield

During the past five months four people have taken my offer to help them make a bamboo rod. I think that I have learned as much as they have. Only one of them has completed his rod so far, and he had to have someone wrap the guides on. The first one to get his rod ready for guides has yet to get them finished. One person finished the guides and was not happy with the result, so he stripped them off and started over. I assumed that anyone who has the desire to make a bamboo rod has already had experience building synthetic rods, and that wrapping guides would be no problem. That was one mistake I made. Another was trying to work with more than one person at a time.

Aside from the logjam with getting the guides on, all of them have done very well in producing glued-up blanks which will finish out into fine fly rods. My worry right now is that the remaining three will all have their rods ready for varnishing at the same time. Meanwhile I have used my free time to plane out several rods of my own, the first of which was raffled at the Expo last weekend.

Any club member thinking about making a rod should get on the waiting list which is down to two, with one able to begin at any time. The cost to get a set of ferruled blanks is $90, but the total cost for a completed rod can vary from about $225 to $300, depending on the quality of the components selected.

Library News

We have acquired three more new DVD's for the library. The new DVD's are Wet Fly Ways, Spey Fishing Steelhead, and Midge Magic (two discs one on fishing midges and the other on tying midges). So please be sure and check these out. I will bring five to six books to the next meeting and will also bring a list of the books that we have and if you see any you would like to use tell me and I will bring them to the next meeting, or we can see if we can meet some where before the next meeting.

Lastly please return any books or DVD's that you may have checked out over the last year. We have a number of items that have been checked out for quite some time. So please check to ensure that you haven't forgotten to return an item. This will make sure all of our members have an opportunity to enjoy all of the items in the library. I appreciate your help. Thanks to all of you who have returned their checked out material.

For future DVD's that have been checked out I will send you an e-mail reminder to return the item.
